

The Wychwood

IT IS A SIGN of the times that it is increasingly difficult to enlist adult help for the running of youth activities such as Scouts, Guides and youth clubs. There must be many youngsters nowadays who have never even heard of the Boys' Brigade, or Sea Scouts – it seems that modern society has deprived parents of the time or enthusiasm to enable them to meet the demands of running such organisations.

Unfortunately both Shipton's Guides and youth club seem to be following this pattern. We must thank Margarett Pierce and Christine Halliday for all their past hard work and dedication, with the hope that someone somewhere may be willing to take over from them for the benefit of our youngsters.

The magazine was finished when I was asked to publish the following, but as we had run out of space it is included here.

The Old Bakehouse at Chadlington is a supportive home with a resident housekeeper run by the Abbeyfield (Chipping Norton & District) Society Ltd.. It offers elderly people a home with independence but with support available when needed. The house is set in a pleasant garden with seven rooms, four with en-suite facilities. Currently there is an en-suite room available. For further details ring 01608 676617 or 01993 830208.

Articles for publication in the October / November issue should be submitted to the Editor at the address below, by 7th September 1996.
