

The Wychwood

IT'S THAT MAN AGAIN! We have received a further article concerning our popular "Doctor Sandy" which we are delighted to include in this edition. I think the last time we mentioned him he was sporting a frozen beard and we posed the question "Do you recognise this man?" and subsequently discovered that many (or most) had not.

With the growing popularity of the Channel Tunnel and Le Shuttle 'the good word' from our contributor the Sod Jobber is a welcome help to any of us who don't know our gauche from our droit and are contemplating continental travel. He finishes with the words (of a sort) of a well known rousing popular chorus to help our concentration when travelling in 'them furrin parts'. Merci.

Please make a note of the following dates for your diary:-
