

The Wychwood

WE CONGRATULATE THE WYCHWOOD SCHOOL on such a positive report following the recent OFSTED inspection. A short extract is printed on page 13. It is nice to know that the high standard of teaching available for Wychwood children has been officially recognised. The school also won £350 in The Rover Environmental Competition for the new pond and wild garden as a result of the combined efforts of staff and parents.

We have included Jamie Cuthbertson's poem (p.26), part of his entry which made him one of only twelve winners in a Blue Peter Millennium competition – quite a considerable achievement.

Following my reference to Paul Callan in the last issue, I received a letter from him (p.17). Many of us have suffered from remarks taken out of context, and I am glad to give him the opportunity to put the record straight.

Now the school holidays have begun, hopefully summer is here! Whether relaxing in the garden, on a beach, or travelling further afield, we wish you a happy holiday
