

The Blue Peter Millennium Competition wanted ideas for items to be placed in a time capsule which will be re-opened in the year 2,050.

Jamie had several ideas before coming up with the idea of putting his Cub woggle and scarf in the capsule. He wrote a short poem about Cubs with drawings of Cub activities around it and was convinced he would win. He was one of 12 winners picked from over 10,000 entries and the prize was:- A limited edition Millennium watch, a trip (with two lucky parents!) to a preview of the Millennium Dome in 1999, a mountain bike and helmet, a lap-top computer and of course, a Blue Peter badge.

He is a keen competition entrant and has twice won Easter eggs in colouring competitions and also a T-shirt in a funny faces competition .

Jamie Cuthbertson (10) with his haul of prizes

THE CUBS

I go to Cubs on Thursday
Akela runs the pack
His real name is Adam
But we have to call him that

We start off playing games
Bulldog, ladders and tig
And then we have a powwow
And say "dob dob dib dib"

In summer we go camping
It really is great fun
We do cooking and hiking
And hope there is some sun

On St George's day we march
With all the other packs
Down to the church to worship
And then march all the way back

I work towards my badges
Astrology and conservation
And I think cubs is the greatest World wide organisation.