

Bob with Andrew and one of the cars

Bob Bradley.

Truly a man of the Wychwoods.

Born in Milton-u-Wychwood, educated in Burford, Bob trained as an engineer in his father's garage and was encouraged by his father Reg. He and his brother raced Vintage Bentleys at Silverstone and other British circuits winning a string of victories, putting up fastest laps and accumulating an impressive array of silverware.

Later on, Bradley's Bentleys were producing modern Bentley chassis and engines, modified, lowered and lightened. Given increased power these were very successful and a great deal of fun was enjoyed by their users.

Bob's marriage to Margaret was a very happy union; two daughters, Carol and Kim, and son Andrew, were produced.

Andrew followed in his father's footsteps as a motor engineer producing his own very successful saloon racing car.

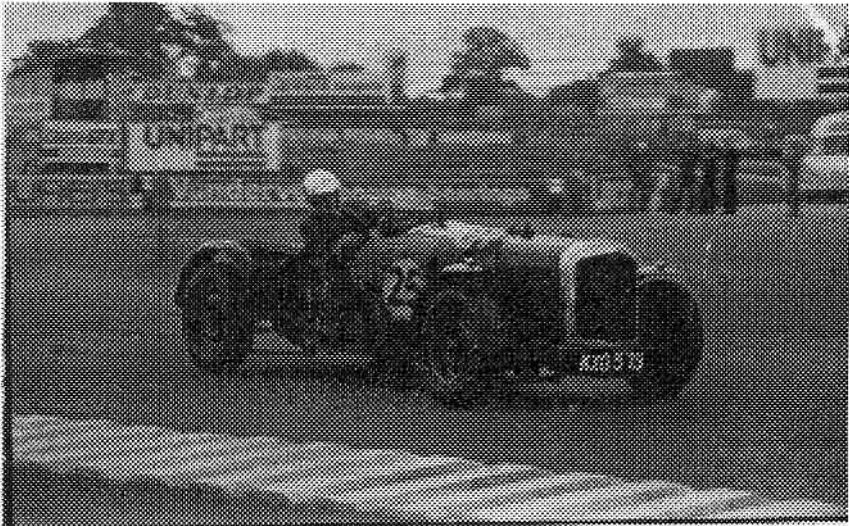

I really got to know Bob and family well as we shared many holiday adventures, some 36,000 miles of travel. Cities, cathedrals, beaches and mountains were explored.

Bob and Margaret seemed to me happiest in the mountains. They were great walkers, climbing like mountain goats, enjoying the challenge, the fresh air and the fine views. A good ramble followed by a good meal gave him great pleasure. He was very knowledgeable of wildlife and the countryside and very well read.

For many years he had sung in the male voice choir. A regular church goer, his work amongst the young and concern for the old was much appreciated and he was a good visitor.

A quiet, good man and a very valued member of our community, he will be truly missed.
