In addition to my students' examination successes, they have also distinguished themselves in many National festivals and competitions which it would be impossible to list here.

Locally, however, Scarlett Matthews won 1st prize and a bursary in Burford School piano competition.

Sophie Dopson and Camilla Harrison, both only eight years old, were invited by Witney Music Society to play in the Talented Young Musicians Concert. Camilla Harrison and Andrew Ilgunis both gave outstanding performances at Wantage. Scarlett Matthews and Sophie Dopson gained very good performance marks and Camilla Harrison an Outstanding Performance Certificate at Chipping Norton Music Festival. All three gave well articulated and very musical performances.

Starting young is the secret of success as any professional musician will tell you. Most of my students begin at 4½, so are well able to tackle the higher grades and standard repertoire before academic studies become too onerous. However several of my adult beginners feature in the above results.
