Essence of Summer Past

Editor:
Christine Halliday

Well, my prediction of a blazing August could not have been further from the reality. As I write this in early September, the sun has finally arrived, so perhaps we will enjoy a long Indian summer.

We set you quite a challenge with our 'Essence of Summer' competition, but the photographers amongst you produced some great interpretations. Our congratulations to all who entered; the prize-winning photographs are featured on Pages 32 and 33 and will be on display in the New Beaconsfield Hall and the Library. Your response was so good that we are considering holding another competition next year – watch this space!

We were pleased with the response to our first ever publicity stall at Shipton Fete and received some marvellous feedback. The issue that is uppermost for many of our readers is the question of speeding traffic through our villages and we feature some of your comments on page 13.
