
Curtain Call

Curtain Call, a new production company, which has been set up to offer professional performing opportunities to people of all ages and abilities, is running a weekend of Stagecraft and Performance for singers of all levels. This will take place at the Tiddy Hall in Ascott-under-Wychwood from the evening of Friday 25th February, all day Saturday 26th and most of Sunday 27th.

The singers will work with a professional director and musical director to create a show on the Saturday evening and a concert on the Sunday afternoon, both of which will be open to the public at the cost of £5 – one ticket covers both shows.

The participants on the course (a maximum of 10 singers) will be asked to prepare a minimum of three songs or arias, all styles acceptable; we will make a show out of the songs chosen. The show will be on the theme 'A Day in the Life of a Hotel Bedroom', which will be entertaining and feature some very talented singers and actors.

Alongside the Stagecraft and Performance tuition the course will be offering expert tuition in Yoga, Nutrition and Reflexology. This is very much a lifestyle weekend with these things added to show how they can play a large and significant part in support when we are working hard, particularly when performing.

Part of the success of the course will be a big audience for the Saturday evening and/or Sunday afternoon so we hope you will come along and enjoy both these events. The daytime rehearsals will also be open, for a nominal fee of £2:50, to anyone wishing to pop in and see how these things are put together. So pass the word around, it will be very professional and a lot of fun. Anyone wanting to be a course participant should get their application in straight away, as places are strictly limited.
