

Up and Coming Websites to Kickboxing

Kelly Drewett has lived in Shipton-under-Wychwood all her life and was educated locally at Wychwood Primary School and Burford School.

After leaving school, she joined a small company in Kingham where she learnt the basics of web design. She now has added to that knowledge over the years and in 1999, at the tender age of just 19, formed her own company Kaydee Web Design.

Kaydee Web Design

Five years on Kaydee is a successful, competitive and ever-growing company, based here in the Wychwoods, providing 'web-sites that work', domain names, hosting and much more to companies all over the country. Kelly has recently gained her first overseas client.

The website for the Cotswold Wildlife Park was one of her first projects and they have continued to use her services ever since, a tribute to the quality and efficiency of her work. She has recently developed a web shop for them, taking online orders for animal adoptions.

Champion Sports

It is not all work for Kelly though; she manages to fit in a variety of sports activities. She started kickboxing over four years ago and now trains three times a week. She took up this sport as a means of self-defence but became the WUMA European Champion two years ago and will be defending that title at the end of this year. She is still a regular swimmer, having swum at County level in the Breast Stroke at 15 years of age. As well as all that, she also 'dabbles in' snow and water sports. A formidable young lady!

Shipton Denied Lord's Return

Shipton's hopes of a fourth Lord's appearance were dashed by Eynsford batsman James Ashdown who smashed a superb 121 not-out to lead the hosts to a five wicket victory.

Shipton's 198 for 9 was always going to be tough to defend and they had more than their share of bad luck.

Shipton elected to bat and looked in great shape at 52 for 0 off nine overs, but the game started to turn when Eynsford skipper Ben Wise bought himself on to bowl.

Bates and Jason Constable surrendered their wickets with soft catches and Simon Hole and Jon Hartley were both out to what Bates described as "flake dismissals"

Panter made 36 and Andy Hemming added a useful 21 not-out, but, sadly, it was not enough to stop Eynsford getting their Lord's debut.
