

The Wychwoods Local History Society More Teatime Memories

Around two dozen of Milton's senior citizens gathered in the Village Hall on 14th December for the second of the popular Teatime Memories sessions organised by the Wychwoods

Local History Society and grant-aided by West Oxfordshire District Council.

enjoyable, if nostalgic, afternoon and particularly liked the chance to meet up with many old friends. Bim Champness and Ron Dale, shown on our photograph with Jack Prew, claimed they had not seen each other for seventy years!

Who's Who?

Photographs from the History Society archives of gatherings of Milton people over the last eighty years were projected by David Trollope onto a large screen and the visitors were asked to suggest identifications where still needed. John Rawlins provided the context for each picture.

Over a splendid tea, served by Janet Wallace and her team of helpers, the guests were able to examine prints of the photographs at greater leisure. John Rawlins declared he was very satisfied with the results, consisting of more than twenty new identifications. The guests confirmed that they had had a very

Have you Any Old Photos?

The Wychwoods Local History Society is always grateful for the loan of old photographs which can be quickly scanned and added to its extensive archives for the benefit of future generations. The Society has more than two hundred members and meets alternately in Shipton and Milton Village Halls. The next two meetings are on: The
