

Library News

Thank you to everyone who donated such wonderful books to the Library for the Milton Summer Fete. Some of them actually went onto the library shelves, they were so new and the rest were sorted and sold.

You will probably have noticed the colourful window-displays recently. The space is available for all village happenings so come in and book a slot.

We have an amazing Jazz collection here at present. CD's, sheet music books and books on the artists will all be here until the end of September. Just £1 to take out a CD for one week, so come in and take your pick and if there is a particular aspect of music you would like to see in the library, let us know and the Music Department will happily send us another collection.

The Glorious Greeks

The Summer Reading Scheme Team Read, as reported last issue, started on July 5th. If you haven't signed up it's not too late. Look out for colouring sheets, puzzles and Hunt the Gang in the library as well as collecting stickers and prizes as you go.

Another of our holiday activities this summer is a visit from the Ashmolean Museum suitable for ages 7 - 11. They will be at Wychwood Library on Friday 15th August from 2.00 -3.00. The subject is: Glorious Greeks and the Ancient Olympics. Come along and find out about life in ancient Greece, handle real ancient artefacts, learn about customs and games at the ancient Olympics and make something gloriously Greek to take home. A limited number of tickets are available from the Library.

'Hotter than Potter'!

We will also be holding a serial reading every Monday at 4pm aimed at ages eight years and over. The book is Weirdstone of Brisingamen by Alan Garner. "Hotter than Potter" says one of the critics, so it should be good. Come along.

There will also be a Storytime for the younger readers every Friday afternoon at 3pm during the holiday period. Come and have a coffee with us on a Wednesday morning. If the weather is fine you can sit in the garden at the back, with the kind permission of Mr and Mrs Ralph. Good coffee and cakes to raise money for more new books.

Ruth Gillingham, Library Manager.
