

The David Hills Trust

This year the David Hills Trust has had two fund-raising events. The first was a Car Boot Sale at the New Beaconsfield Hall on Sunday, 6th July. It was meant to be on the football field in radiant sunshine. Unfortunately we had rain and wind but the administration were

Dear friends of David's kind and let the sellers set up their stalls inside the Hall. Those who braved the weather were generous and in spending mood so the event was a great success. Jo Schofield organised the whole thing and a big "thank you" from the Trust is due to Jo, her helpers and all who took part.

Annual Golf Day

The second event was its annual Golf Day at the Wychwood Golf Club on Thursday, 10th June. The weather bucked up a bit for that, though there was some rain before the last of the 72 golfers had completed the course. Among those playing were many of David's old colleagues, school friends, and his uncle. Players and their guests, 102 in total, sat down to a splendid supper, after which guest of honour Richard Springer, Programme Manager from Toynbee Hall, told of its latest initiative, the David Hills Residential Volunteer for Children and Young People, whom the Trust will support with £10,000 this year. There was a raffle, followed by the golf prize awards. The David Hills Golf Cup went to a visiting team of Charlie Ferguson, Stuart Green, Joe Fathers and David Goss. Runners up were John Dyakowski, Neil Gladding, Steve Hunt and A Purdy. Neil Gladding won the prize for best individual; with runners-up David Goss and Mike Rippington. He and his wife both won the longest-drive prizes. Chris Marr, who was seen turning from golfer to little game hunter when she twice landed her ball in the same party of moorhens, won the award for 'Most Memorable Activity on the Course'.

A Wonderful Memorial

The Boot Sale raised £415.50, the Golf Day £899.50. Donations of £732.50 could not be attributed specifically to either event. Jane, Charlotte and I send our most sincere thanks to so many kind and generous people who make help for young people in London's East End a wonderful memorial of our son and brother.
