Milton Volunteers

A new volunteer group has been set up in Milton. Our main aim is to tackle those jobs around the village that fall between or outside the remit of other organisations and to make the village a more attractive place to live.

We work as an off-shoot of the Parish Council, who provide insurance for us, but are not controlled by them.

We have a steering group consisting of myself Chris Trotman, Christine Hart, who is our link councillor, and Martin Gibbs. We are also supported by Cottsway, who along with the Parish Council have given us a start-up grant to purchase our equipment.

We have a team of about a dozen volunteers and we will be meeting once a month on the second Friday and Saturday to tackle a particular project.

One of our initial targets will be the Village Green. The Council has contracted work to manage the trees and hedge rows and we will provide back-up to this and make further improvements. We are also looking at the possibility of erecting notice boards at vantage points around the village, and we have a growing list of other projects. There may be incentives for repeated involvement, and the satisfaction that you have helped to make our village a nicer place to live.

If you would like to know more about the Milton Volunteers and the other projects we have in mind, then please contact me on: 01993 832614 or email me at chris@est2008.orangehome.co.uk
