

Angry Danielle and Jonathan

Jasmine Meaden of Wychwood School shares her story, inspired by the 'Angry Arthur' story read in Mrs White's class, showing how our feelings can affect others.

It started at bedtime and Danielle and Jonathan were fighting again. Then Mummy came in and said; "What is going on in here you two?" and they did not reply. Then she said again; "I said what is going on in here?" then they replied; "We are fighting". Then Mummy said; "I've had enough of fighting now go to bed! I mean it or you will get a smacked bottom!" But Danielle and Jonathan got all into a rage and they went outside and their angriness made a storm blow off the roof tops and window panes and the storm turned into a terrible flood and storm and it carried people out of bed and into the storm.

It Was Terrible!

The flood and storm turned into an absolutely utterly terrible lightning storm and flood. Suddenly lightning struck a house and people came running out in fright. Then out of nowhere came the master of storm and flood. He cackled; "Wa ha ha!" The master of the storm and flood said; "Danielle and Jonathan are going to destroy your city and have no homes except Danielle and Jonathan. Wa ha ha!" Everybody shrieked and swam around frantically in the water! Suddenly a loud shriek was heard and someone came running out with the Master running behind her. She was shrieking; "He turns people to stone!" Then suddenly Danielle and Jonathan felt very sorry for the other people and they started to cry and all the other people noticed that they were crying so they started crying too. Suddenly there was a loud scream. Everybody looked and saw that the Master was disappearing into thin air.

A Rainbow in the Sky

Then suddenly it started raining and a rainbow appeared. Everybody looked at each other saying; "You look like you've been covered in rainbow coloured paint!" and "Wow! Your clothes and skin look like they've been coloured by rainbow colouring Persil" and stuff like that. Then a little four year old called Millie said; "There's a rainbow in the sky. Haven't any of you noticed!" Everybody looked up in astonishment. Then an old man said; "There really is a rainbow everybody!" And there really was a rainbow. Then they saw that Danielle and Jonathan were climbing up a sky scraper with a microphone. When they got to the top they stood up and said together at the same time; "We are terribly sorry about the storm we made and flood. We will never try to do it again. Hope it is ok with you and sorry". Then they climbed back down. Everybody looked at them in astonishment. Then their Mummy started clapping and then more people started clapping and more and more and more. Danielle and Jonathan started bowing and people clapped even more and Danielle and Jonathan said; "Let's have a party at our house!" and everybody shouted; "YAyyy!" and they all went in and had the time of their life.
