

Snow in the Wychwoods Arctic Transport

While the snow and arctic conditions made life difficult for those with conventional transport, it certainly gave a boost to some less conventional modes of travel. After 'Shanks Pony', toboggans were generally thought to be the best choice, but they do need a hill or a 'puller'.

Dogs of course come into their own, although these don't look like Huskies. However the ultimate must be to fly, without the inconvenience of an airport!
