

Wychwood Library News

In a year's time, April 2014, the changes which were decided after the 2011 consultation, come into force so there is a great need to use Wychwood Library to prove just how valuable a resource this facility is to the local area. We are all getting used to the Self Service machine; it has its limitations, particularly if you expect it to know if you have had a particular title before, it does not, but come to the counter and we can help you in the old fashioned way. We are still here.

Pictures to Share of the Past

If you have trouble getting to the library, are caring for an elderly relative or if you are recovering from an illness, we can change your membership details, maybe just temporarily, to reflect this. There would be no fines on overdue books and you would benefit from free reservations as well. We still want the books to be returned of course, but you will have a little more time to do so. Just have a chat with us or give us a call.

If you are caring for an elderly person, they may like to look at our selection of 'Pictures to Share' books. These are wonderful books of photographs from various decades in the 20th century, great for jogging memories from bygone days. One of our popular activities at the Library is the Wychwood Circle. This is an open discussion forum where we explore what we believe and what we believe in. Over this last year we have discussed Karen Armstrong's book Twelve Steps to a Compassionate Life, Christopher Jamison Finding Happiness and Christian Atheist by Canon Brian Mountford. These sessions are held on the first Sunday of the month at 7pm until 9pm.

Canon Brian Mountford, Vicar of the University Church of Oxford, relaxing after discussing his book Christian Atheist, with the Wychwood Circle

I would like to thank

Derek Willis, our computer trainer, for all his efforts at helping so many folk to get online and be more comfortable using their computers. Sessions are on Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 2 to 4pm. Call to book a place. The course lasts about six weeks.

Come and Visit Us

Wednesday coffee mornings 10am to 12 noon, with delicious cake, lovely lady helpers and great coffee.

There are all the other regular activities at Wychwood Library as well; the Evening and the Afternoon Reading Groups, Poetry Club, IKNIT Craft morning and the Junior Reading Group.

Come and visit us at Wychwood Library.
