

The Wychwood

The Power of Music

If music be the food of love then we are in for a romantic summer. Bob Forster's guitar playing brightens the world of the residents of Tall Trees on page 5. There are summer music festivals in Bledington (page 41) and Shipton (page 55), the North Cotswold Choir will be performing in the New Beaconsfield Hall (page 65) and the Folk Club evenings in Ascott have really blossomed, see page 19.

You may enjoy hearing about a surprising change of career for local residents, Tom and Cindy Shannon, involving Thunderbolt and his harem. Read all about it on pages 15 and 17.

Our thanks and congratulations go to Agnes Hunt who has just 'retired' after delivering the magazine for 34 years. Does this inspire you to volunteer your help? We are always looking for people to assist with the magazine in so many ways— see what it takes to be Photographic Editor on page 23. If you are interested in helping in any way and would like to see what goes on, please contact one of the committee.

Keep your articles and announcements flowing in. Without you there would be no magazine.
