

News from Burford School Celebrating an Outstanding Contribution

At the end of this term we say a very fond farewell to Mr. Norridge who is retiring after 39 years.

It is a generally agreed that school days are the best days of our lives. For Stuart, this was certainly the case.

How it All Started

Stuart remembers with great fondness, the seven extremely happy years he spent at Burford Grammar School from 1961-1967. After following a course in Business Studies for two years, Stuart realised that teaching was where his heart lay and he went on to qualify in 1973. Two years later his happy memories of life at Burford drew him back, and as a member of staff he has taught geography, games, commerce, general studies, business studies and, for the past 18 years, history.

Outside the classroom Stuart spent twelve years in charge of Wysdom Juniors. As a member of the PTA he has raised money for curtains, seats, library books and more, and has been a regular member of the staff cricket and hockey teams.

Not Quite Goodbye

Happily, he will still be contributing to the life of the school, remaining as a Governor and helping with the stage management for our next musical. He will also be responsible for running next year's Berlin and Krakow Trip and the annual visit to the WW1 Battlefields. Many of you will, I am sure, want to join us in wishing Stuart a long and happy retirement. We shall have celebrated his remarkable contribution to the school before the end of the summer term and by the time you read this. If you have any personal messages you would like us to pass on to him, please feel free to leave them at the school reception.
